VOSMOTIVE BUSINESS CONSULTING

A stylized white bird logo is centered on a dark gray background. The bird is depicted with its wings spread wide, and a small white circle is positioned at the bottom center, representing the tail or a landing point. Several thin, white, curved lines sweep across the background, adding a sense of motion and depth to the composition.

VOSMOTIVE COMPANY OVERVIEW

THANK YOU FOR THE TIME YOU ARE TAKING TO READ ABOUT OUR COMPANY!

Unique, Current, and a One-Stop Solution.

Vosmotive is a creative company that focuses on 2 different sectors in the market. The one market being Stainless Steel and Sheet Metal Market, and the other, the Design, Branding and Website Development Market.

Vosmotive is built on integrity, quality and humble principals. We have identified a few things that we address in our 2 different divisions:

1. The need to create – a lot of people have great ideas, concepts & businesses but do not know how to design / create / promote it.
2. The need for quality – many products get shipped into the country and services are offered at low prices for everyone; the quality however, is shocking. The need for good, timeless, personalized and quality products is back!
3. The need for open-line communication – one contact person for answers, solutions and assistance.
4. The need for integrity and honesty – People want these two things in life, let alone in business; as these two principles create the platform of trust which is essential to cooperation and long-term personal and interpersonal growth.
5. The need for service – the idea that suppliers will make a contribution to experience, knowledge, patience, nurturance and encouragement; to them and their companies.
6. The need for companies to practice what they preach – Practices are not principles and many people out there are searching for supplier that will practice the principles which they stand for or promote themselves with.

With all of this said, we at Vosmotive decided to take what we have identified and add our experience, skills, talents and knowledge to every project. Treating it with the absolute attention and personal care that our clients deserve.

MEET OUR FOUNDERS AND LEARN A BIT MORE ABOUT THEM:

CAREL VOS – The owner and founder of Vosmotive

I'm a conceptualist that is fully qualified as a draftsman in 3D CAD programs. I love to improve existing products, as well as create new ones. I'm passionate about creating solution driven products to assist sectors with the challenges that they face, and do this all via turnkey solutions from beginning to end.

FACTS ABOUT ME:

- I am a family man!
- The amount of random general knowledge I possess baffles people.
- I love learning new things and I do research on a consistent basis.
- Even though I can't sing or dance I still enjoy doing it.
- I'm addicted to chocolate and cheese.
- I could get lost in nature forever.

SUE-MARIE VOS – Business Consultant

I'm a qualified NLP & Life coach. I have an absolute passion to grow people and businesses with patience, nurturing and companionship. Coming from a performing arts background, I discovered graphic design, web development, branding and all that goes with it isn't that far fetch from the artistic elements I have encountered throughout my career. I want to give the corporate sector a voice to sing with and the music to dance to, making it just as esthetically vibrant as the arts sector.

FACTS ABOUT ME:

- I am an energetic fire ball.
- I have 3 gorgeous children and a rock of a husband.
- I was a professional dancer but I should rather not sing.
- Jazz music is my happy music.
- I am addicted to chocolate and popcorn
- I love sowing, bead work and anything else that is creative.

STEELSTUFF

VOSMOTIVE STEELSTUFF

Even though motive refers to motor it also refers to idea, concept and design.

This is how Steel Stuff in Vosmotive was born.

With years of experience in design (drafting) and manufacturing of steel products in companies, Vosmotive Steel Stuff decided to go solo.

Vosmotive Steel Stuff is the turnkey solution for all your steel requirements, as we can design your idea, create your idea, manufacture your idea, and last but not least, sell your idea (should this be required).

We pride ourselves on our ethics and complete confidentiality between ourselves and our clients.

We are only interested in great quality service and superior products.

As turnkey solution, Vosmotive specializes in Stainless Steel, Aluminium and Mild Steel product development of our own products, as well as products that clients require.

We specialize in Stainless Steel Balustrading from the design element straight through to the manufacturing and installation thereof.

Turnkey to us means that we oversee your complete project weather it is for aluminium, mild steel or stainless steel product development, stainless steel balustrading or selling, manufacturing and installation of currently available steel products that Vosmotive has to offer.

As turnkey solution, Vosmotive has control over the price we quote on as well as the quality of each project, as we are the only ones responsible for the design, measurements, manufacturing and installation of each product and project.

SERVICES & PRODUCTS

PRODUCT DESIGN

To be effective, precise and cost effective, it is important to design and layout a product / project.

3D Cad Designs allow you to see your product / project come to life before you spend money on the final outcome.

3D Cad design allows a precise bill of quantities to be established, ensuring no hidden costs. This service guarantees that materials are used effectively and that space on site are utilized to its full capacity.

TIG WELDING

Vosmotive specializes in Stainless steel and Aluminium TIG welding.

Through TIG welding, we are capable of achieving the highest quality of weld and it allows us to be versatile in what type of material we weld and the position of the welds.

One of the advantages of TIG welding is that the weld does not only possess high integrity, but it also has an aesthetic surface finish.

LASER CUTTING

Laser cutting is a manufacturing process which can eliminate the need for machining on many engineering jobs, enabling the customers to reduce their manufacturing costs.

Laser cutting presents certain advantages, as this process is much more precise when cutting steel and aluminium sheets.

Laser cutting also allows us to cut small diameter holes with complex detail and good edge quality in either sheet, plate, tube or box section.

STAINLESS STEEL PRODUCTS & BALUSTRADING

Vosmotive specializes in Stainless Steel Products & Stainless Steel Balustrading.

There are many advantages to the steel and the company focuses on quality products and service. Stainless steel is corrosion resistant, fire and heat resistant, it is very hygienic, has an aesthetic appearance, strength to weight advantage, ease of fabrication, impact resistance, and it has long term value and sustainability.

SHEET METAL PRODUCTS

With regards to sheet metal products, we focus on Aluminium and Mild Steel products.

Aluminium is an outstanding material with regards to light weight and high strength. Not only can aluminium be reused without losing its unique properties, but it also has superior malleability, can be easily machined, is excellent with regards to corrosion resistance, and is easy to mill, drill, cut, punch, bend weld and bond. The product is 100% recyclable and has a long lifespan.

VOSMOTIVE BUSINESS CONSULTING

Even though motive refers to motor it also refers to idea, concept and design.

This is how Business Consulting in Vosmotive was born.

With years of experience in branding as a brand specialist in companies, Vosmotive Business Consulting has decided to go solo for even more personalized and excellent service.

Vosmotive Business Consulting is the turnkey solution for your company, with regards to branding, website development, system development, online marketing, animated designs, printing, shop and factory branding.

Our main goal is to be your go-to entity on advice and solutions for branding and marketing.

We want you to stop running from supplier to supplier to get your company visible and achieve your end goals.

We want to stop your brand from being dressed differently with every different project.

We want your brand to reflect one statement - YOURS!

As your business is unique and have trademarks that are linked straight back to you and your staff we assist in giving your company the voice to speak to the exact target market that you would like to reach.

We dress your company in the colours and the formality that will relate best to the market that you would like to present to.

We make sure that you are visible online and offline.

Already have a brand? No problem we can assist in giving your brand a makeover, to be relevant in the current day and age.

We pride ourselves on our ethics and complete confidentiality between ourselves and our clients. We are only interested in great quality service and superior products.

SERVICES & PRODUCTS

GRAPHIC DESIGN

Graphic Design is a group of words, symbols, images and colours to create a visual representation of ideas and messages.

All of this unifies your company and what you stand for, what your message is and how it is reflected. To us at Vosmotive Business Consulting, we value your brand and designs as the promises that you make to your consumers; the identification of the meaning behind that promise.

We make it our business to understand your business.

WEBSITE DEVELOPMENT

As your website is your representative on a daily basis, with which you speak and convince your consumer that you are the company they need, it is imperative that you make sure that it is dressed for success.

Sure, many companies offer packages at low, low prices for everyone! The question you need to ask is what will you gain as return on investment?!

Your website is your Sales Consultant when you are not around. What is your website saying about you?

PRINTING

With printing comes status!

Living in an online world, printing has become an exclusive service. If you receive something printed it is something that you can hold, feel and to which you can relate. It creates a feeling of something more permanent. Printed materials are tactical - it can be put down, picked up and hangs around for a much longer time then the pages you read on screen.

ANIMATION

With animation your company has no limitations with regards to the features that you require to get your message broadcasted or online.

The world is your oyster and you have the ability to dictate your exact needs and you get exactly what you want. You don't have the restrictions of searching for the correct face to represent your brand, as you can create it. Animation is timeless! For the quick movers watching it's a lot less time consuming and more entertaining than reading.

ONLINE MARKETING

In today's day and age Google is the first place 90% of consumers go and search for products and companies for services that they require.

Consumers want the freedom to compare and research the answers to their questions. Say you have a website, how will you be found? What does your website tell the consumer? How will you reach more people and tell them about what you do? Online Marketing is your footprint that leaves a trail for consumers to track and follow back to you.

BRANDING

Branding is imperative to your identity.

It establishes your company. It is the final touch! It assists with your advertising. It establishes permanent identity, promotes repurchasing and creates loyalty. Without branding your identity is undefined. It should be an extension of your company's identity and assist consumers with brand recognition. Knowing who you are and what you look like.
